

Abstract

This bachelor thesis deals with the development of Radotin Elementary School, especially with the period from 1872 to 1945. The thesis is focused on the daily life at school, the construction of school buildings, the teacher staff, the pupils and work of the local school. The introduction discusses the beginnings of Radotin school system followed by the World War I. period and the elementary school development during the First Republic. The conclusion of thesis is focused on the development of the school during World War II. . The source for this thesis was available literature particularly source documents.

Keywords

elementary school, Radotin, history of school,