

Abstract in English

Diploma thesis deals with the reading of boys. Specifies the needs of children in reading, especially the needs of boys. It characterizes dispositions of the reader and the influences that act on them. It summarizes the current situation of children's reading at home and abroad. Thesis mentions the reasons why focus just on reading of boys. It shows aspects that are important for boys in reading and further specifies them. Thesis recommends on how best work with boys and the texts in lessons. Based on research in MK in PRAGUE and interviews with boys lists the titles of the current book market, which meet the criterias of boys for their selection of reading. Then specifies these titles in terms of catchiness for boys and didactic potential. Presents an example of literary lesson which is then verified in practice. It compares the interests of girls and boys in reading, their perceptions and reactions during work in the lesson. It summarizes the knowledge gained from the interviews with children and observation of children during their work.

Klíčová slova

chlapci, dívky, četba, potřeby, zájmy, motivace, texty, knížky, akce, dobrodružství, učitelé

Keywords

boys, girls, reading, needs, interests, motivation, texts, books, action, adventure, teachers

