

In the present work we study key structural points of the theory of fictional worlds, looking for the similar points in virtual reality worlds and then experimentally overlaying both sets. Main scope of this study is clear definition of borders between fictional and virtual worlds. At the end, we will see the main differences as well as an common grounds of fiction and virtual reality, which will be helpful for further aesthetic studies of medium of virtual reality and its contents, the virtual reality worlds.