

Legislative process and its future

Abstract

The rigorous thesis contains issues of the legislative process in the Czech Republic. Main purpose was to clarify process of approving bills. Thesis also contains ideas, which could be suitable for improving established rules for approving bills. The sources for thesis were valid laws of the Czech Republic, judgements of Constitutional court and professional literature.