

Abstract

The thesis brings concentrated summary of domestic material (substantive) and procedural setting of conditional release from imprisonment, a brief historical and foreign excursions then outline, how and why the institute was founded, as well as to allow the international comparison, at least at his elementary aspects; finally, the thesis shows possible solutions or future changes in substantive and procedural laws related.