Abstract

In the theoretical part I am devoted to the history, anatomy, types of stoma, concept of stoma, indications for an establishment of stoma, pre and postoperative care, treatment of stoma, instruments and the influence on daily activities of a client while having a stoma.

In the practical part I am following my own research of the impact of stoma on daily life’s activities of klients with a stoma.