

Annotation

Bachelor thesis will examine the influence of the family on the musicality of the preschool child.

The theoretical part will summarize current knowledge on the musicality of a child under the age of 6 years.

The practical part will focus on research in kindergartens. Using the questionnaire will be collected information about current conditions for the development of musicality of children in a family environment. Questions will be designed for parents who would like to personally address in kindergartens in the Chomutov. The research results will be compared with historical data doc. PaedDr. Miloš Kodejška, CSc, which in recent years conducted similar research in the same district.

Keywords

Preschool child, Development of preschool children, Family, Musical ability