

ABSTRACT

Title of work: The Quantitative analysis of a team performance video recording of games of Czech national women team at the World championship 2014 in Turkey

Objectives of Thesis: The aim of the thesis is to compare indicators of the team game performance of Team Czech republic and its rivals. On the basis of this comparison will be a confrontation of both teams after the match and find differences in their game performance.

Methods of work: The main method of the thesis is quantitative analysis of 4 selected video game between Team Czech republic and its rivals. The video will be recorded by observing the characteristics of the game and then had to compare the participating teams.

Results of work: The results should show probable causes of wins and losses in selected games.

Key words: basketball, team game performance, quantitative analysis of the video, charakteristics, diferences, result