

This bachelor thesis titled Specifics of the Outreach Work with Homeless People deals with the theory of streetwork, its history, utilization, purposes and principles. It describes forms and methods of outreach work and outreach workers in Czech Republic. One of the target groups of outreach work are homeless people, this phenomenon and its causes and solutions are described in detail. This bachelor thesis is focused on solution of issues within the outreach program NADĚJE association. The practical part consists of a thorough description of its functioning. The discussion includes a suggestion of establishing the missing parts of services and an evaluation of the current policy of Czech Republic concerning this issue.