

This bachelor thesis is focused on the action and behavior of fans and hooligans in football stadiums. Bachelor thesis is divided into three parts.

In the first part will introduced basic concepts such as hooligans or ultras. Another part focuses on the history of football hooliganism in the Czech Republic and also describes the activities associated with this scene, especially the conflict or "third half".

The final part of the bachelor thesis is devoted subculture of hooligans in the football club Bohemians Prague 1905. This section is for their own fieldwork approached fan and hool situation in these traditional Prague football club and there is also described the history of the football club Bohemians Prague 1905.