

Abstract

This bachelor thesis consists of a commented translation of a text selected from the publication Les réfugiés du bâtiment A by a French journalist Gérard Dhôtel. The book aims to describe the situation of refugees to young readers. The bachelor thesis is divided in two parts: The translation of the text is followed by a commentary of the original text and particular problems during the process of its translation.