The thesis deals with the secondary school youths' awareness of the planned parenthood.

In the theoretical part, the notions adolescence, gender, single life, planned parenthood and sexual education were explained together with a brief overview of contraceptive methods. Also, the motherhood, the father's role, the mother's role, the family and the parenthood were clarified.

In the empirical part, I surveyed the knowledge of the contraception and the planned parenthood with the students of a grammar school and of a secondary school. I searched for their knowledge of Postcoital contraception as well as of the termination of pregnancy. I also surveyed who is more informed, whether boys or girls.
