

Abstract

This bachelor thesis deals with career and activities of Herbert Samuel - first High Commissioner in Mandatory Palestine. He was appointed in 1920 shortly after violent riots, we follow his reactions to this events as well as his policies, and approaches to different local native communities like for example berber tribes.