

Abstract

The goal of this bachelor thesis „Policy of first Czechoslovak Republic to the Roma Minority“ is to describe the legislative measures applied from Czechoslovakia to Romani ethnic group in the years of 1918 to 1938. The thesis is primarily focused on law no. 117/1927 Sb. On travelling gypsies had exceptional character for its time. It's trying to describe circumstances during which the law was created. The thesis includes analysis of explanatory report of the law, analysis of debates about the law in the National Assembly and eventually implementation of the law by state.