

This text works with the legend of Joseph about Old Testament, Ge 37,50. It is a last family story. Comments and paraphrases of latter origin continue from that point. The legend is advanced in apocrypha and pseudoapocrypha. Also the writers of early Christian texts worked with this legend to whom Joseph serves as an example of moral values.