

In this work we study entropy numbers of linear operators. We focus on entropy numbers of identities between real finite-dimensional sequence spaces and present detailed proofs of their estimates. Then we describe relation between entropy numbers of identities between real spaces and between complex spaces, which allows us to establish similar estimates for complex spaces.