Abstract:
This thesis is focused on Heidegger’s concept of university. Firstly is shown Heidegger’s a difficult style of thinking. On this basis is described being of science, concept of university during his work as a president in Freiburg and in period after war. Thesis discuss the problem of being of technology and two ways of thinking which is closely connected with topic. Finally Heidegger’s concept of university is shown in postmodern situation. Present and future problems related to university are elaborated as well.