

Abstract

The bachelor thesis will focus on the situation of Greek Catholic Church in Czechoslovakia after the Communist outset in 1948, when the so-called Action P, which was to destroy the Church, occurred. It will primarily concentrate on the period after the onset of communism to power, although the plans to the destruction of the Church were ready before the year 1948, and charting their systematic fulfillment after the Communist outset in 1950, when the „Presov Sobor“ met. It will become one of the central themes of this thesis and will be set into the context of the then religion-political situation in Czechoslovakia.
