

The scope of this bachelor thesis are roofless people and their integration to the society. This thesis is divided into two large parts. The first, theoretical part, is mainly about conceptualization of terms in context of my topic. The second part is based on the field research studied roofless people and their lives.