Bachelor thesis deals with schizophrenia and outlines her socially. The main objective is to find out the activation of clients living in sheltered housing. Whether the client perceives their health and is consequently able to participate in activating programs. If the client is actively being responsible with his family, and is positively influenced and thus is able to see the future positively. In my work I put forth eight interviews I had with clients from sheltered housing - Bona o.p.s. interviews. I analyzed and subsequently determined whether the predetermined assumptions were confirmed or not.
