

Abstract:

The aim of this thesis is to start a debate about preservation of new media art in the Czech Republic. I use comparative method of several new-media thoughts. Also I explicate questionnaire about experience of new-media artists, curators and employees of the art institutes. This paper can be perceived as possible impulsion for wider discussion about new media preservation as well as new media art generally.