

Abstract

Diploma thesis „The proces of acquisition of the bourgeoisie in the early modern society – the example of New Town in Prague in the years 1582 – 1612“ deals with the processes related to the acquisition of burgher rights during the reign of Rudolph II., focusing on the formation of the relationship adopted townsmen – surety; craft and the place of origin by acquirer burgher rights.