

The purpose of this thesis is to research vocal and instrumental ensembles that are part of music department at Fr. Kmoch Primary school of Art in Kolin. To record their history, endeavours and the efforts of their conductors and choirmasters. For the sake of completeness I do also mention the graduates who went through these ensembles and then decided to study the music at high schools or at universities and also those who remain dedicated to orchestral and group performing even after finishing the primary school.