

Abstract

Bachelor thesis "Special Relationship" between the Great Britain and the USA during the Suez Crisis (1956) analyse the unique relationship between two world powers in the context of the British-French-Israeli military intervention in the Suez Canal, nationalized by the Egyptian nationalist leader Nasser. The work briefly records the origin and nature of a "special relationship" and its development in the Middle East. The main topic of thesis is the analysis of the Suez Crisis from the point of view of the functioning of a "special relationship".