Appendix 1: The interview guide

Hello, as I have already mentioned in the email, I am a student of the Charles University in Prague. I am in the last Masters year and I currently write my diploma thesis. Its main objectives are the changes of perceptions and views on the human rights in the Western society. The aim of this interview is to find out how the non-profit organisations dealing with the issue of the human rights perceive these changes. I will ask you not only on your job, but also on your opinions, estimations, and assumptions. It is probable that in some situations, you will not be able to tell the objective facts, rather only your point of view. That is acceptable and normal. It is not a test, there is no wrong answer. However, please, apply to your job and your experience from what you do in your organisation. The interview will be recorded, transcribed, and will be used for the purposes of my diploma thesis only. If you have any questions now, during, or after the interview, feel free to share them with me.

First of all, introduce yourself and your organisation – what is its main purpose, how many years it operates etc.

1. Why is your organisation necessary?
2. What are the main obstacles your organisation deals with?
3. How does the mainstream public perceive your organisation?
4. Have this perception changed in recent years (+-10)? If so, how, when?
5. Who are the biggest opponents of what you do? Why these people?
6. How are perceived the people you help?
7. Have this perception changed in recent years (+-10)? If so, how, when?
8. In what extent do you come into a conflict with the values of the majority or other groups?
9. How would you judge the Czech society and its attitudes towards the human rights from your organisation's point of view?
10. Have there been any critical moments when there were opinions of the Czech public/politics which were unacceptable for your organisation?
11. How is the European society doing?

12. In which way do the views on the human rights in the world move?
13. Which countries are the perfect models in the respect of the human rights? Why?
14. What impact has increasing nationalism on your organisation, its activities, and the people it advocates for?
15. What is the role of the European Union in your organisation?
16. How would change running your organisation if the European Union would disappear?
