

The aim of this work is to present some of the concepts and possibilities of understanding of death and dying on the field of psychology, psychotherapy and theology.