The objective of this study is to make the project of nature trail from Rožmitál pod Třemšínem to Třemšín. The area around Rožmitál pod Třemšínem was chosen for its huge nature, cultural and historical potential. Not only the project of nature trail was the result, but fitting of this nature trail to project of new museum became the main result. This could be new ecomuseum, which could exploit the nature trail as a part of itself and raise the tourism.
