June through December 2010 Semi-Annual Report of the Office of Professional Accountability Review Board. Review Board Mission ... The Review Board's mission is to provide community oversight and awareness of Seattle Police Department practices and its employee accountability system

2011 State of the City address delivered by Mayor Michael McGinn February 22, 2011. INCLUDES: What if we had the kind of police officers who got to know their neighborhoods by walking them, talking with residents and businesses, and solving problems before they get big? We do. Officers Robert Besaw and Tom Burns, please stand up. These officers are beat cops in Belltown. They grew up in West Seattle together. And they know the people on their beat. They know the business owners, the neighbors, the homeless, and others in the community. By working with individuals in the Belltown area who need a place to sleep or a place to get help, these officers are able to identify and problems as they arise and quickly address them to help keep the community safe. Officers Burns and Besaw, Thank you for your combined 45 years of service.

A RESOLUTION establishing the 2011 work program for the Office of Housing. INCLUDES: PRIORITY #2: INVESTING IN HOUSING LINKED WITH SUPPORTIVE SERVICES FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE HOMELESS OR HAVE SPECIAL NEEDS

Human Services Department's Response to 2010 Statement of Legislative Intent (SLI) No. 39-2-A-1: Contracting for Enhancement Public Health Services. INCLUDES: The City does not have statutory responsibility for public health. Our role is one of choice and historical commitment to ensure, with King County, that we have a robust Public Health Department. The City does not fund regional/core public health services. We voluntarily fund "enhanced" public health services, examples of which include medical and dental care for the uninsured and underinsured (the community health centers/health safety net); Healthcare for the Homeless; and intensive public health nurse visiting services for high-risk, first-time teen mothers and their children. The City funds these services in order to improve the health of Seattle's residents and neighborhoods

Response to 2012 Statement of Legislative Intent (SLI) No. 114-2-A-2: Third Avenue Transit Corridor Initiative.

Department of Parks and Recreation's (DPR) Department's Response to 2012 Statement of Legislative Intent (SLI) No. 81-1-A-1: Funding options for arts-related programs at the Department of Parks and Recreation. INCLUDES: From Todd Vogel, Executive Director The International Sustainability Institute: Art Sparks in Occidental Park helps our community enormously. Our neighborhood has a large amount of illegal or unhealthy activities as well as a homeless population that can sometimes seem to dominate public spaces. The International Sustainability Institute's office is less than a block from Occidental Park, and the quality of that public space has a big impact on our block and on our businesses.

Art Sparks has helped tip the scales of Occidental Park from a drab park sometimes dominated by homeless people sleeping and drug users selling their wares to a lively space where tourists, office workers and other businesses spend time in the public space. The people drawn to see Art Sparks work help make the park -and Pioneer Square -safer and more comfortable to spend time in. It's a cheap investment in the safety and wellbeing of our community. My biggest concern is feeling safe in the downtown area during the business day. Even if I am not attending an event, the atmosphere of the parks have dramatically changed. I feel confident to walk thru Occidental Park, for example, during the day, knowing there are other people there besides the homeless. I think the program(s) make Seattle parks very positive to visitors and possibly benefit the citizens of Seattle even more so. I love the tree socks!!

A RESOLUTION related to the Budget Control Act of 2011 and Sequestration.

A Proclamation by Mayor Michael McGinn designating August 8, 2013, to be Dignity for Divas Day.

Human Services Department (HSD) response to 2013-2014 Statement of Legislative Intent No. 95-3-A-1: Report on violence prevention and diversion programs for young adults. INCLUDES: In 2006, the city of Seattle initiated three pilot projects intended to improve public safety and break the cycle of people who are frequently involved in the criminal justice system. The three projects are 1) Communities Uniting Rainier Beach (CURB); 2) Get Off the Streets (GOTS); and 3) Court Specialized Treatment and Access to Recovery Services (Co-STARS). The overall goal of these projects is that individuals with a history of criminal justice involvement and underlying conditions such as homelessness, mental illness and/or chemical dependency, live crime free and become contributing community members.

6/25/2012	Clerk File Number: 312436	Department of Parks and Recreation's (DPR) Department's Response to 2012 Statement of Legislative Intent (SLI) No. 81-1-A-1: Funding options for arts-related programs at the Department of Parks and Recreation. INCLUDES: From Todd Vogel, Executive Director The International Sustainability Institute: Art Sparks in Occidental Park helps our community enormously. Our neighborhood has a large amount of illegal or unhealthy activities as well as a homeless population that can sometimes seem to dominate public spaces. The International Sustainability Institute's office is less than a block from Occidental Park, and the quality of that public space has a big impact on our block and on our businesses. Art Sparks has helped tip the scales of Occidental Park from a drab park sometimes dominated by homeless people sleeping and drug users selling their wares to a lively space where tourists, office workers and other businesses spend time in the public space. The people drawn to see Art Sparks work help make the park -and Pioneer Square -safer and more comfortable to spend time in. It's a cheap investment in the safety and wellbeing of our community. My biggest concern is feeling safe in the downtown area during the business day. Even if I am not attending an event, the atmosphere of the parks have dramatically changed. I feel confident to walk thru Occidental Park, for example, during the day, knowing there are other people there besides the homeless. I think the program(s) make Seattle parks very positive to visitors and possibly benefit the citizens of Seattle even more so. I love the tree socks!! 9/25/2009	Clerk File Number: 310210	Mayor Gregory J. Nickels 2010-2011 Budget Address. INCLUDES: The philosophy of Housing First is simple: people on the streets need a safe place to begin to get well. It's an innovative approach that provides the chronically homeless rapid access to housing, with vital medical, mental health and support services available on site. It is a more humane, a more successful and a more cost-effective method than paying for emergency room visits, sobering centers and jails. And now cities as diverse as Dallas and Anchorage have taken notice. So far, we've opened 450 Housing First units, with hundreds more in the pipeline. It is also imperative that we pass a renewal of the Seattle Housing Levy this fall, a plan that would preserve or build more than 1,800 affordable homes and provide emergency rental assistance to more than 3,000 households, ensuring more of our people don't become homeless. The cost of the levy to a typical Seattle homeowner is $65 a year. To us today these are just numbers but to Judith and Sunshine, Steven and Ed it is a chance at reconnecting with a real life and hope. The human dividends of funding housing are priceless	House	Places emphasis on housing first programs

	Chapter 23.72 - SAND POINT OVERLAY DISTRICT	The purpose of this chapter is to implement the Sand Point amendments to the Comprehensive Plan by regulating land use and development within the Sand Point Overlay District in order to integrate the property into the city of Seattle as a multi-purpose regional center that provides: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> A. Expanded opportunity for recreation, education, arts, cultural and community activities; B. Increased public access to the shoreline and enhanced open space and natural areas; C. Opportunities for affordable housing and community and social services with a special priority for addressing the needs of homeless families;
Title 22 - BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION CODES	Subtitle II - Housing Code: 22.210.040 - Application of chapter.	This chapter shall apply to displacement caused by demolition, change of use, substantial rehabilitation, or removal of use restrictions from any dwelling unit in The City of Seattle, with the exception of displacements from the following: 1. Any dwelling unit operated as emergency or temporary shelter for homeless persons (whether or not such persons have assigned rooms or beds, and regardless of duration of stay for any occupant) by a nonprofit organization or public agency owning, leasing, or managing such dwelling unit.
	Chapter 22.214 - RENTAL REGISTRATION AND INSPECTION ORDINANCE -- 22.214.020 - Definitions	"Shelter" means a facility with overnight sleeping accommodations, owned, operated, or managed by a nonprofit organization or governmental entity, the primary purpose of which is to provide temporary shelter for the homeless in general or for specific populations of the homeless. "Transitional housing" means housing units owned, operated or managed by a nonprofit organization or governmental entity in which supportive services are provided to individuals and families that were formerly homeless, with the intent to stabilize them and move them to permanent housing within a period of not more than 24 months.
	Chapter 22.220 - DOWNTOWN HOUSING MAINTENANCE -- 22.220.020 - Findings	The Seattle City Council hereby finds: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> A. Low-income housing in downtown and adjacent lower First Hill is a scarce and diminishing resource. There has been a net loss of more than fifteen thousand (15,000) housing units in the downtown since 1960. B. There exists an extreme shortage of low-income rental housing in the downtown area, resulting in a negligible vacancy rate for habitable low-income housing. C. Many low-income tenants are unable to locate rental housing of any kind. These homeless persons are increasingly seeking housing in already overcrowded emergency shelters, and when such shelters are full, finding themselves on the City's streets. H. Buildings which are vacant and not carefully secured and maintained frequently attract homeless persons seeking temporary shelter. This unsupervised use of these unheated buildings results in a fire hazard to the buildings and to the residents of
	Chapter 3.20 - HUMAN SERVICES DEPARTMENT -- 3.20.010 - Department created—Purpose.	A. There is created a Human Services Department for the development of comprehensive human services policies and plans; to act as coordinator and advocate for social needs and concerns of the City's population; and for the administration, coordination, planning and operation of City programs and functions relating to human problems and needs, including without limitation those of persons who are aged, youth, disabled, unemployed and underemployed, homeless, low-income, have special needs or are otherwise disadvantaged.
Title 14 - HUMAN RIGHTS	Chapter 14.06 - UNFAIR PUBLIC ACCOMMODATIONS PRACTICES -- 14.06.030 - Unfair practices	11. Denying, directly or indirectly, an individual's right to use gender-specific restrooms and other gender-specific facilities in places of public accommodation including but not limited to dressing rooms, locker rooms, homeless shelters, and group homes that are consistent with the individual's gender identity or expression.
	Chapter 14.08 - UNFAIR HOUSING PRACTICES -- 14.08.020 - Definitions	"Preferred employer program" means any policy or practice in which a person provides different terms and conditions, including but not limited to discounts or waiver of fees or deposits, in connection with renting, leasing, or subleasing real property to a prospective occupant because the prospective occupant is employed by a specific employer. "Preferred employer program" does not include different terms and conditions provided in city-funded housing or other publicly funded housing, for the benefit of city or public employees, housing specifically designated as employer housing which is owned or operated by an employer and leased for the benefit of its employees only, or any program affirmatively furthering fair housing. For purposes of this definition, "affirmatively furthering fair housing" means assisting homeless persons to obtain appropriate housing and assisting persons at risk of becoming homeless; retention of the affordable housing stock; and increasing the availability of permanent housing in standard condition and affordable cost to low-income and moderate-income families, particularly to members of disadvantaged minorities, without discrimination on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, ancestry, national origin, age, sex, marital status, parental status, sexual orientation, gender identity, political ideology, honorably discharged veteran or military status, alternative source of income, participation in a Section 8 program or other subsidy program, the presence of any disability or the use of a service animal by a disabled person. "Affirmatively furthering fair housing" also means increasing the supply of supportive housing, which combines structural features and services needed to enable persons with special needs, including persons with HIV/AIDS and their families, to live with dignity and independence; and providing housing affordable to low-income persons accessible to job opportunities.
	Chapter 14.08 - UNFAIR HOUSING PRACTICE -- 14.08.050 - First-in-time	offer tenancy of the available unit to the first prospective occupant meeting all the screening criteria necessary for approval of the application. If the first approved prospective occupant does not accept the offer of tenancy for the available unit within 48 hours of when the offer is made, the owner shall review the next completed rental application in chronological order until a prospective occupant accepts the owner's offer of tenancy. This subsection 14.08.050.A.4 does not apply when the owner: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. is legally obligated to set aside the available unit to serve specific vulnerable populations; b. voluntarily agrees to set aside the available unit to serve specific vulnerable populations, including but not limited to homeless persons, survivors of domestic violence, persons with low income, and persons referred to the owner by non-profit organizations or social service agencies.
