

Abstract (in English):

The bachelor work deals with the history of amateur societies in Trutnov region from their origin in 19th and the beginning of the 20th century till the year 1945. The main part describes four local theatre societies. Two of them are from the Czech part of the region and the other two from the part with the Czech minority. It also focuses on circumstances of their origin and it covers cultural, educational and charitable activities, which they performed. This part does not forget the description of the relation with other societies and associations. The part of the bachelor work is also a description of administration of the societies, their composition, running and the relation with political authorities. For better understanding is drawn up a general development of Czech amateur theatre with emphasis on its national-educational function in the period of the national revival. The brief history of Trutnov town gives an idea of national and cultural development of the region. Tables and supplements completes an activity and running of amateur societies.