

Abstract: This work attempts to bring Emanuel Moravec's work and compare his views on the army and future war conflicts with former military thinkers such as Liddell Hart, Fuller and Guderian. At the same time, this work attempts to answer the question whether or not Emanuel Moravec created his own particular military theory and thus whether we can rank it among military theoreticians.

Key words: war, military theory, Emanuel Moravec