

Bachelor's thesis describes a case study project of a multifunctional house in Prague-Horni Pocernice. It informs about the phenomenon of multifamily houses in the Federal Republic of Germany. Work contains information on how libraries are presented in multifunctional and multigenerational buildings and what specific services in this environments are provided. Multifunctional houses with library are emphasized. In the second half, detailed information about past and present of the City of Prague-Horni Pocernice is provided. The public library is introduced. Finally, the project of „Multifunctional house in Praha-Horni Pocernice“ is described.