

My diploma work is dedicated to the dilemma of motherhood of women with hearing disability. The aim of this diploma work was to name the problems of the mothers with hearing disability (I am, in substantiated cases, working with the term parenthood, so that the role of the father is not forgotten). My diploma work also endeavours for mapping of projects, which are offered to mothers with hearing disabilities.

First few chapters inquire into general problematic of persons with hearing problems, and the following chapters are dedicated to the central theme of the diploma work - motherhood of women with hearing disability - thus particular problems of mothers with hearing disability and projects, which are dedicated to those problems. The last part contains selected case studies of mothers with hearing disability and also interviews with the sign language interpreter and with a deaf parent's daughter. In the appendix, there are stated contacts of organisations, which are devoted to the problem I mention in my work.
