

ANNOTATION:

Work will deal with code-switching in Brno and situations where this happens. The aim of the thesis is to show in what sociocultural conditions Brno's people talk between the common Czech and when it is used in Brno dialect called hantec. The group, which will form the basis for my research, is composed of people from the circle of my acquaintances permanently residing in Brno. Another phenomenon that is related to code-switching and laying in my thesis I deal with is diglossia. The fundamental method of research will be complemented by observations polozúčastněné semi-structured interviews, which will be recorded using a dictaphone.
