

Graduation thesis is formed in three parts. Theoretical, practical and educational.

The theoretical part research after essence, specificity and history of figurative imaging. The practical part is reflection after author's own paintings, research after its formal and contentual sources. In the educational part I tried at first to retrace the construction of my lessons conception. With so that I presented my own pedagogical project adherent to theoretical and practical part contents.