ABSTRACT

This bachelor’s thesis aims to translate the lecture The Remembered Gate and the Unopened Door by Lois Lowry. Lowry delivered the speech in 2001 and then published it on her website. The translation is followed by a theoretical part, which includes the analysis of the source text, description of the selected translation method, typology of translation problems and typology of translation shifts.