

Abstract

This bachelor thesis deals with an analysis of a novel by Marie Pujmanová (1893–1958) Prescience (Předtucha). Focalization was chosen as the key methodological instrument and other narrative categories are mentioned only through focalization. The thesis focuses especially on its language aspect and also the ways of creating characters through focalization.