

en.txt

After an introduction into current sheet physics, with emphasis to solar physics we showed some formulations of finite element method. We implemented and evaluated new discontinuous finite element with Taylor basis and introduced deal.II library with an example of burgers equation. While the program is dimension independent, we compared our solution with a one-dimensional analytical solution. Finally, using previously derived LSFEM formulation, we solved simple current sheet problem using deal.II.