

Abstract and key words

Title:

Outdoor management training perspective study (Courses at the British Universities and comparison with the Czech Republic)

Aim of the work:

The description of OMT courses in Great Britain. Outdoor training in the Czech education system. Find out what attractive and perspective of OMT is among students of Sport management course at Charles University.

Methods:

Methods of website analysis and email communication were used to the description of OMT courses and findings of situation of OMT in the Czech education system. Questionnaire research finds out attractive and perspective of OMT.

Results:

The results inform us about OMT courses contents in Great Britain, they give us information about study conditions and structure. The results also bring view of OMT in the Czech education system. The results of questionnaire research express student's opinions of OMT; how it was expected, most students express to OMT very positive.

Key words:

outdoor management training, experience education, adventure education, courses