

This thesis introduces the reader to the problem of psychological violence against the background of CAN syndrome - Child Abuse and Neglect syndrom. This graduation theses has x chapters. All chapters contain partial aspect of psychological violence, while trying to provide a comprehensive view in the context of CAN syndrome.

First part (Chapter 3) of this thesis is describing syndrom CAN. It also highlighted its definition, forms and manifestations and it is followed by Chapter 4 which deals with the prevention, causes the generation, high-risk groups and treatment of CAN syndrome and psychological violence. The conclusion is then given kasuistika itself.

The last fifth chapter provides statistical data to highlight the presence of CAN syndrome across the Czech Republic.