

5. Summary

The first part of this diploma work includes an item analysis of the chemistry tests given at the entrance exam for bachelor study at the Charles University, the Faculty of Science, in 2005.

The second part designs tasks in organic chemistry and it includes the item analysis based on results of pretesting procedure in A-level chemistry of 24 high schools. The representative pretest sample for each test consists of about 96 pupils.