

Abstract:

Subject of the diploma thesis is social entrepreneurship analysis with focus on the region of Liberec district - the particular administrative part of the Czech republic. The social entrepreneurship is introduced as specific activity of the civic sphere, the social economy is a branch, actually comprised in the area of the civil society. First part of the work comprises of theoretical background of the theme of social economy, short historical overview and survey about contemporary approach to social entrepreneurship in the Czech republic, its support and barriers. The second part of the theses performs the research activity under the topic of social entrepreneurship in Liberec region. The analytical part of the work presents the results on its ground are made some recommendations for the future arrangements and possible research topics.

Keywords:

Social economy, Social entrepreneurship, Social enterprise, Civic sector, Civil society, Public benefits, Development, Support