

Abstract

This bachelor thesis first defines key words a teacher, a pedagogue, and an educator. It also deals with the teacher's personality, especially with different typologies. The major part of this thesis is a reflection about the success of the educational process and how is the idea of „successful teacher“ defined today and how was this concept perceived in the past.

In the final part of this thesis the author adds a few of his educational experiences.

Key words

Teacher, pedagogue, successful teacher, typology, authority