

Abstract

Title: The strategy and tendency of Turkey's economic accession to EU

Turkey has status of „applicant country“ and its negotiation about membership in EU proceeding the longest time among all candidates and member countries, for all time of existence of EU and that since 1963.

This work is concerned at appreciation of Turkey's Republic position in relations with EU. Thesis monitors and follow its progress of tendency of membership in EU – especially in economic aspects. The main aim is to finde, which economic indexes are comparable worth with EU and its acquis communitarie and whether is Turkey acceptable applicant state for EU.

Trough the sport sphere measure hypothesis, whether specific Turkish temper has place in Europe.

According to determined macroeconomic indexes, which are in many cases comparable with some member countries of EU, Republic of Turkey is from the economic aspect acceptable candidate country to EU and their specific temper don't mean any problem in accession proces.

Key words: Turkey, economy, economic indexes