

The work is aimed for historical development of pre-school institutions associated with the development of educational institutions.

The work deals with the region of Karlovy Vary mainly and it puts the accent on specificity of national population set-up in the area, especially in the period of the 19th century and the first half of the 20th century.

The German-Czech issue affected the way of formation, functioning also ending of individual types of public scholastic and private educational institutions or organizations of social character for the school and pre-schools children.

Institutions for the pre-school children were changing their function. In some periods there were running several types of institutions at the same time which were different not only from the language thought but also from their pedagogical educational program. There are distinguished the German Kindertagesstätten running by Froebel and the Czech Kindertagesstätten.

By uncovering historical connection of the Czech - German relations in the region of Karlovy Vary, possibility of understanding the complication of the educational system development of that region is being opened
