

5. Summary

In the first part of this diploma work an item analysis was carried out of tasks of requisite chemistry during the entrance examinations for bachelor study at the Charles University (the Faculty of Science) in 2005.

In the second part a series of didactic tests from organic chemistry were created, legalized in secondary schools. An analysis was carried out of each task in consideration of the eligibility of the alternatives.