

This thesis is focused on the philosophical questions of Master Jerome of Prague. It puts the accent on the till this time edited questions published by Jerome of Prague until 1409. The thesis simultaneously deals with the life of this Czech master, who was master of liberal arts of the universities of Paris, Cologne, Heidelberg and Prague and so it also deals with his activities at these universities till the quodlibet disputation in 1409.