

Abstract

This thesis is focused on personality of the Apostle Peter and his relation to Jesus Christ, as it is narrated in the Gospel according to John. The Apostle Peter represents a kind of Human/Christian with all his conflicts and challenges. Thesis analyses a characteristics of Peter, Human/Disciple in an interaction with Jesus, True God and True Human / the Master and the Lord. A Christian can find himself in similar situations in his own life and own relation to Jesus Christ. Even today we can reflect our own personal characters and spiritual practice in a view of Peter's humanity and discipleship.
