

Annotation

The diploma thesis “Sequel novel in selected volumes of two magazines for women published in the first Czechoslovak Republic – List paní a dívek and Hvězda československých paní a dívek” deals with sequel novels, which were published in favorite women’s magazines. These novels belongs to genre “červená knihovna” and genre of teen female novels. Term “červená knihovna” (similar to harlequin) is typical for Czech literary background. Theoretical part consists historical context of sequel novel and his development and also history of popular women’s literature. This part also refers to fundamental elements of sequel novels. Mainly it is stereotypization of main protagonist, patterns and plot. The end of the sequel novel for women is traditionally closed with happy ending. The practical part is focused on analyzed novels in two magazines – List paní a dívek and Hvězda československých paní a dívek. At first there are described basic data about magazines, their establishments and summary of content they consisted. Research part contains list of all sequel novels which were published and analyzed. The aim of this part was to describe main pattern, genre and plot. Part of description was focused on nationality of authors and number of sequels. The result contains the most important analyzed data and their comparison with focus on repetitive patterns which were based on stereotypes of sequel novels in women’s magazines.