

The presented bachelor thesis “Problems of Employment of Ex-Drug Users“ describes possibilities of their entering the labour market and ways of support that are offered to them nowadays in the Czech Republic. The thesis is divided into seven thematic chapters that deal with present situation at the labour market with respect to the specific needs of ex-drug users, their characteristics, including a short outline of drug addiction treatment and their opportunities at the labour market as seen both by clients and staff members of therapeutic facilities and by potential employers in territory of the City of Prague. Finally, the thesis describes ways of seeking jobs the ex-drug users may make use of and summarizes legislative specifics of their employment. The closing chapter is devoted to the description of the “Work and Social Agency” project of SANANIM NGO from the point of view of the author’s own practice there.