

Abstract

Title: Development and current state of civil protection in the Czech Republic

Objectives: Objectives of the thesis is to describe the history of civil protection (defense) and the current state of civil protection in our country.

Methods: In this work is used the method of data collection, information and data from available literature, electronic and information sources.

Results: The result of the work is a description of the history and current state of civil protection of the population in our country.

Keywords: Development, state, protection, hazards